MET and Step Up

Step Up is a part of the City of Minneapolis Employment and Training (MET). The program is funded with city, state and federal funds and must adhere to the policies and eligibility criteria set forth in each.

Job Description

Each worker in the Step Up Program will have a unique job experience. Because there are more than 80 agencies and over 100 work sites, youth have a wide variety of work experiences to choose from. Some jobs are in an office, some are at child care centers or recreation programs, and others are outdoors in local parks. Your job description will be based on the needs of your work site.

Your daily work schedule will depend on your work site, but all youth are limited to 20 paid hours per week. Most youth spend about 15-20 hours per week on their work site and will attend a one day required Professional Development Day seminar in July. Unfortunately, due to COVID-19, Professional Development Day has been canceled.

Step Up Elective Credit

For those of you who are eligible to earn the Step Up elective credit and attend a Minneapolis Public School, you will see the credit on your transcript by the start of the 2021-2022 school year. For those of you who do not attend a Minneapolis Public School, we are sending a letter of completion to your home by the end of July. You can take this letter to your School Counselor for processing.

If you have any questions, concerns, or need to send us an updated address for credits, please send an email to StepUp@ppl-inc.org. Make sure to include your full name along with your inquiry.

BRIGHT FUTURES
through professional

Supervision

Your supervisor is an employee of the agency where you work. They are responsible to:

- seeing that work is assigned and done efficiently
- give instructions, solve problems, encourage good work and correct misbehavior
- evaluate your job performance including attendance, punctuality, teamwork, task completion and other factors
- keep accurate records of your time worked
- authorize payment and deliver your time sheets according to the payroll schedule
- treat workers equally regardless of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, political affiliation or belief

Your work place has rules for all its employees, and you will need to follow the same rules.

Your supervisor can fire anyone who is not doing the job, who is late or absent too much, or who doesn't follow work rules or directions. Your supervisor's will help you learn your job and make sure that everyone does her or his job. Not everyone does exactly the same kind of job.

Your supervisor is responsible for telling you what to do. It is your responsibility to follow their directions. If the directions you get don't make sense to you, ask questions.

If you think of a different way to do something, ask your supervisor or teacher for permission before doing it. There may be a good reason that you can not do it.

Work Rules and Disciplinary Procedures

Breaks

Your supervisor will tell you when you can take breaks. You need to bring your own lunch and snacks.

Work Rules

In order to keep your job and do well this summer you need to observe the following rules. Your work site may have other rules you need to follow as well. You will learn those rules during your orientation.

Do:

- Report to your work site as scheduled and on time.
- Follow directions.
- Call your supervisor if you will be absent or late.
- Come back from breaks on time.
- Treat people with respect—and expect to be treated with respect as well.
- Dress appropriately for the job.
- Talk to your supervisor if someone is making it hard for you to do your job.

Don't:

- DON'T have friends meet you at work.
- DON'T bring weapons or anything that could threaten or hurt another person to work.
- DON'T swear or use abusive language.
- DON'T use music players, cell phones or other electronic devices on the job—at all unless you are on break.

Disciplinary Procedures

Youth in Step Up Program are required to follow basic rules designed to promote a safe and comfortable environment on the work site. Because Step Up is a training program, the disciplinary policy is designed to help you learn from mistakes while still being held accountable for your actions.

If you choose not to follow the rules, you may receive a verbal or written warning. This warning should tell you what you did wrong and how you need to change your behavior.

In cases where a verbal reminder does not correct the behavior, a written warning may be issued. If you continue to display unacceptable or inappropriate behavior on the job, you may be fired.

You may be fired immediately if you do any of the following:

- Steal
- Physically assault someone or threaten someone
- Bring alcohol, drugs or a weapon to work
- Refuse to work

Pay Information

You are an employee of Step Up and will earn minimum wage—$12.15/hour. You will only be paid for time you are at work.

You will not be paid for lunch time, holidays or time lost for being late.

Time Sheets

Your supervisor will keep track of the hours you work on a time sheet. You are required to review and sign the time sheet at the end of each two-week pay period to verify that it is correct.

To get paid, all Step Up participants must follow these rules:

- Sign in the exact time you arrive at work. DO NOT sign in early unless you have permission from your supervisor.
- Sign out the exact time you leave. DO NOT work past your scheduled time unless you have permission from your supervisor.
- You also need to sign in and sign out for lunch break. If you don't see a sign-in sheet, ask for one. Always write in ink. These rules are for your protection. The sign-in sheet is used to help solve disagreements about wages to be paid.

Payroll Schedule 2021
Pay Period	Paycheck Date
June 6 - June 19	July 2
June 20 - July 3	July 16
July 4 - July 17	July 30
July 18 - July 31	August 13
August 1 - August 14	August 27

Payment

Payments will be uploaded to your Paycard or deposited into your bank account every two weeks according to the payroll schedule. Please put YOUR NAME on your mailbox and let Step Up know about any address changes so we can update our records. We highly recommend you get a bank account and have your paycheck deposited directly so you receive your payment on time.

PayCard

Paycards will be distributed to interns prior to the first pay date of July 2nd. Paycards can be used like debit cards for purchases or cash withdrawals from ATM's.

Direct Deposit

You may choose to have your paycheck deposited directly into a checking or savings account. In order to do direct deposit, you must:

- Have or open a checking or savings account. Your name must be listed as the account holder or joint account holder. You cannot directly deposit your check into a parent's account.
- Complete a Direct Deposit Form and include either a voided check or routing slip. CareerForce staff can provide you with direct deposit forms.

Late/Missing Payments

If your payment does not arrive by the Wednesday following payday or is not deposited in your account as scheduled, contact CareerForce Step Up office (612-299-7209).

Deductions

Deductions from your paycheck are made according to what you claim on your W-4 form. Most youth claim "exempt" from paying State and Federal taxes because of the limited amount they will earn during the summer. As required by law, you will have Social Security tax deducted from your paycheck. Social Security tax is 7.5% of your gross earnings.

It is important that if you move, you are responsible for reporting your new address to the workforce center staff.

Safety

Your safety is very important. Supervisors are trained to provide safe and appropriate tasks for you and to teach you how to perform jobs safely. But injuries can still happen. Most injuries are minor and are treated with on-site First Aid. A small number of injuries may require medical care.

If you get hurt at work—no matter how small the injury—tell your supervisor right away.

Your supervisor will help you care for the injury and decide if you need to see a doctor. Your supervisor will also do the paperwork necessary for the injury to be paid for by Worker's Compensation if you do have to visit the doctor.

If you see a doctor because you get hurt at work, you MUST bring the information that your doctor gives you back to your supervisor. This information will tell your supervisor if you have any work restrictions or follow-up visits.

Safety Laws and Restrictions

You have a right to required safety clothing, equipment and training.

Tell your supervisor or call MET if someone asks you to do something that makes you feel unsafe or uncomfortable.

You should know:

The Employee Right to Know Act was passed in 1983. It is treated as part of the Occupational Safety and Health program in the U.S. Department of Labor and Industry. According to the act:

- employers should evaluate your work place for safety,
- workers should be told about dangers in the work area,
- workers should be trained on the dangers.

The act covers dangers like hazardous substances, harmful physical agents and infectious agents.

The employee should have written information about any of these things. Containers should be labeled. You have the right to refuse to work under imminent danger conditions or if you are not provided with the required information, training and equipment.

Your work site must also follow state and federal laws about the kinds of work you can do.

If you are under 18, you can't:

- drive a motor vehicle or be an outside helper on one
- manufacture or store explosives
- use a power-driven wood-working hoist
- operate a slicing or baking machine
- be exposed to radioactive substances or ionizing radiation
- mine coal, log, or work in a sawmill
- pack meat
- manufacture brick, tile or related products
- work with wrecking, demolition or ship-breaking operations.

If you are 14 or 15, you can't:

- do any of the above (page 9)
- use any power-driven machinery including a lawn mower or weed whacker
- load or unload trucks
- cook or bake
- use ladders
- work past 9 p.m. (during the summer)
- work more than eight hours in one day

Your supervisor is responsible for following labor laws and child labor laws. He or she should never ask you to use equipment until you are taught how to safely operate it. If you are under 16, you may not operate any power equipment on the job. That's the law.

Your supervisor should not ask you to do work that puts you in danger. If you think you might be in danger, talk with your supervisor. Call 612-888-3696 if you have concerns about danger after talking with your supervisor.

Abuse and Harassment

Abuse and harassment on the job are against the law. A harasser could be another summer youth worker or an adult.

Sexual harassment is any unwelcome sexual advance, request for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

Some examples of sexually harassing behavior include:

- verbal comments or actions about genitals, sexual acts, clothing, appearance, etc.
- mocking, teasing or taunting in a suggestive manner
- repeatedly talking to someone about sexual matters when he/she doesn't want to
- obscene clothing, with or without words
- catcalls or whistles
- making sexual sounds

Abuse is defined as intentionally injuring another person either verbally or physically. Types of abuse include verbal, physical and sexual abuse.

- Verbal abuse can include name-calling, teasing or repeated insults.
- Physical abuse is any act which results in non-accidental injuries to a person. Some types of discipline including shaking, kicking or hitting are defined as physical abuse.
- Sexual abuse is any act of sexual assault or exploitation of a child. Examples of sexual abuse include touching the intimate parts of a child or asking a child to touch someone else intimately.

If any words or actions make you feel uncomfortable on your job, tell your supervisor or summer job office immediately.

Complaint Procedures

This section gives you information that you will need to know if you decide to make a complaint. You may want to talk about your decision and these procedures with your supervisor or another adult. This section covers two kinds of complaints: program and discrimination. Keep this information in case you need to look at it again.

If you feel that the Step Up Program has treated you unfairly, you may file a complaint. If you have been denied services, you have the right to an appeal. If you wish to file a formal complaint or an appeal, please see your supervisor for help.

A. Program complaint

This type of complaint is only for the operation of the Step Up Program. If you have a complaint about the Step Up Program, contact Jeremy Lundborg, , Operations Program Manager by calling 612-888-3696.

B. Discrimination complaint

The Minneapolis Civil Rights specifies that it is illegal to discriminate based on race, color, creed, ancestry, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, affectionate preference, marital status or public assistance.

It is also illegal to:

- Retaliate against any person because he/she opposed discrimination
- Conceal information about discriminatory acts
- Aid, abet, compel, coerce, incite or induce another person to discriminate
- Use advertisement, application forms or any other mechanism to bring about discrimination

Intake Officer

Minneapolis Department of Civil Rights,

350 S. Fifth St. - Room 239

Minneapolis, MN 55415

You may file a written complaint with MET up to one year of the occurrence of the alleged violation. Your written complaint must contain: your name, address and phone number, the reason for the complaint and a brief statement of the allegations. It must be signed and dated by you. The Complaint Investigation Unit of the MDCR will perform a full, fair and impartial investigation of a discrimination complaint occurring in Minneapolis.

Filing a discrimination complaint with the Minneapolis Department of Civil Rights

It is not difficult to file a complaint with the Minneapolis Department of Civil Rights. The intake officer will meet with anyone wishing to discuss their right to file a complaint because of an incident that happened in Minneapolis.

During the meeting(s), the intake officer explains the civil rights law and may collect information that will later be used to draft a formal charge of discrimination. The Minneapolis Department of Civil Rights does not offer legal advice. For legal advice, contact the Lawyer Referral and Information Service at 612-752-6666 or the Legal Aid Society at 612-332-1441.

Some things to remember about filing a complaint:

- Discrimination is a community concern. A person does not have to be directly affected by discrimination to file a complaint.
- Respondents should keep track of dates, documents, witnesses, and other possible evidence that would help the investigation.
- Keep the investigator updated of changes in address, home and work phone numbers, legal representation, etc., throughout the investigation.
- Complainants and respondents have the right to legal representation throughout the investigation or during hearings.
- Cases must be filed within one year of the incident that was considered to be discriminatory.
